Directives for Mass during H1N1 Flu Season:

The Catholic Bishops of Pennsylvania encourage the clergy to observe the necessary standard precautions to protect the health of others during this flu season, and especially with the risk to H1N1 influenza.

Bishop Lawrence E. Brandt has issued directives for the celebration of Mass in the Diocese of Greensburg to be followed during the flu season, especially with the risks related to H1N1 influenza.

- The distribution of the Precious Blood for the faithful is suspended during the flu season because of the epidemic potential of the swine flu.
- Those who suffer with Celiac Sprue disease may continue to receive the Precious Blood. Extraordinary Ministers of Holy Communion should administer Holy Communion under this form for such persons and not refuse Holy Communion to any other person who desires to receive in this form.
- The reception of Holy Communion on the tongue continues to be normative practice, and those who desire to receive in this manner may not be refused.
- The exchange of the sign of peace is to be offered without any physical contact. When the priest celebrant extends the invitation for the sign of peace, the faithful, instead of a handshake, may bow to the persons nearby.
- Parishioners are not bound by any obligation to attend Mass on Sunday if they are sick or have been exposed to the flu. They should return to church only when they are well.

The directives are effective in the Diocese of Greensburg until determined otherwise by Bishop Brandt.
